LAUNCH OF THE CENTENARY CELEBRATIONS 2021 - 2022

“ You continue to create change-makers, individuals who dare to create the world of their dreams and are committed to transforming the world ”

H.E the First Lady of The Republic of Kenya, Margaret Kenyatta.

The Centenary celebrations of the Kenya Girl Guides Association were officially launched on 19th February 2021 by H.E the First Lady Margaret Kenyatta on a day that the organization was observing the World thinking day. The theme of the World Thinking day was “Peace”. Peace building is at the heart of Girl Guiding and is as vital and relevant today as it has been for the last 100 years.

Speaking through a video link to participants at the event held at the organization’s headquarters in Nairobi, the First Lady commended the association for playing a crucial role in modeling girls and young women into responsible citizens. She also elaborated on the theme for the Centenary Celebrations, “AWAKENING HER POTENTIAL” which is a wake-up call to all women and girls to utilize their immense potential as Change makers in Kenya and across the globe.

In attendance were other honorable guests who included The Cabinet Secretary Ministry of ICT Mr. Joe Mucheru, CAS, Ministry of Education Ms. Mumina Godana and Ministry of interior and Coordination Ms. Maggie Campbell. Other government officials were Lydia Muchemi from The Ministry of Education and Faith Chemutai from The Public Service Commission. KGGA partners including UNICEF, WAGGGS and USAID were present. KGGA’s National council and executive committee were present led by the National Chairman Mrs. Terry Maina and Chief Commissioner Prof. Faith Nguru.

A total of 300 Girl Guides from Moi Educational center followed the proceedings remotely via zoom at their school premises.

ABOUT THE CENTENARY THEME

The Centenary theme - AWAKENING HER POTENTIAL

Awakening the potential of the girl guide speaks to creating awareness, shifting mindsets and behaviours to break away from disempowering habits and embracing new strategies to deliver strategic results. The theme seeks to convert and develop the latent qualities and abilities of members to present and future success and usefulness.

The Centenary Pillars

These were built around the Association's thematic areas, namely Leadership, Entrepreneurship, Environment, Peace making and Health. All activities carried out by the association in this period are in line with these pillars

- HER the Future Leader
- HER the Entrepreneur
- HER the Green Ambassador
- HER the Peacemaker
- HER the Life Giver

Her the Future Leader

We recognize that leadership is not about power but shared journey that empowers us to work together and bring positive change to our lives, the lives of others and the wider society. We deliver our mandate to empower the girl child through high quality non-formal educational programmes. These provide the girls and young women with dynamic, flexible and value-based training in life skills, playing a unique role in creating a world where girls and young women are valued and empowered to take action to change the world.

This pillar drove a very strategic recruitment drive in Rift Valley in 2021 that has seen the membership in this period grow by an impressive 50% to the current 350,000 girls. We intend to scale this strategy to other regions as we work towards 1,000,000 members in the next two years.

HER the Entrepreneur

The KGGGA continues to work toward elevating the entrepreneurial and financial management skills of girls and young women that to build their economic empowerment and independence. policy makers. One key driver of this is broadening partnerships with like-minded institutions and individuals in order to establish a 'Centre of Excellence' at KGGGA headquarters.

The deliverables of this endeavour are training on Entrepreneurship and life skills, business mentorship, linkage to Business finance and E-commerce opportunities.

HER the Green Ambassador

KGGA recognizes the need, relevance, and importance of environmental conservation. The initiatives around this range from tree planting and plastic waste management awareness include working with local groups to participating in forest restoration around the five highland forests and championing agroforestry. The flagship project under this pillar is the “One Girl One Tree Campaign”.

HER the Peacemaker

Peacebuilding is at the heart of Girl Guiding and embedded within the Guide Promise and Guide Law. The clarion call is to “Stand Up, Stand Strong, and Stand together for peace”. KGGA has carried out peace education activities that will promote conflict resolution, participated in Stop-Gender Based Violence’ Campaigns and trained Peace Ambassadors from various counties who in turn will spread the message of peace in their immediate environments.

HER the Life Giver

Donating blood and saving lives is in line with our mandate to serve God and country and in obedience to the guide’s law of “doing a good turn every day”. It is our persuasion that a blood donor is a natural resource, and we advocate that voluntary blood donation be encouraged as a civic duty. KGGA launched an ambitious KGGA @100 Countrywide blood donation drive targeted to raise 100,000 blood Units.

There have been several blood drives in this regard with the first one being conducted at the Centenary celebrations launch in Feb 2021.

DOCUMENTING THE JOURNEY

KGGA@100 Documentary & Coffee Table

The Association chose to document the 100 - year journey through a Documentary and a Coffee table Book.

This was developed through interviewing more than 30 people and the collection of more than 30 hours of raw footage. The interviews happened in Nairobi, Nyeri and Mombasa. Apart from the individual interviews, the stories of Shanzu transitional workshop for the disabled women, Hawkers market Centre, Kibera girls center and PAXTU in Nyeri were also captured.

The final productions included;

- i. 1 Main documentary that is 1 hour 7 minutes long.
- ii. 1 Short documentary that is 23 Minutes long
- iii. A 6-minute documentary that was shown during the main event on 25th February 2022
- iv. 5 trailers used to tease the main documentary on social media.

FACELIFT OF THE KGGA OFFICE AT THE BADEN POWELL GROUNDS IN NYERI

Part of the Centenary celebrations included the facelift of an almost dilapidated KGGA office situated at the Baden Powell grounds in Nyeri.

Considering that the Baden Powell grounds is a pilgrimage centre where both local and international visitors walk in and out daily, it was important that the KGGA offices look presentable. Indeed, this is the first contact to some visitors especially the International guests who have come to retrace the history of Baden Powell and Lady Baden Powell at the grounds and the museum (PAXTU) located at the Outspan Hotel in Nyeri.

In line with giving the offices a facelift, KGGA therefore re-painted the office and the Guide Promise on the graveside as well as on the gate pillars. The Guide Laws were also re-painted. This was done in August 2021

WORLD THINKING DAY 2022 AT THE BADEN POWELL GROUNDS AND MUSEUM (PAXTU)

Since it was first launched, World Thinking Day has become a way to support Girl Guiding and Girl Scouts across the globe. It allows groups of Girl Guides and Scouts to get to know and connect with others within the Girl Guiding and Scouting community, even if they're situated countries apart.

World Thinking Day aims to bring together young people from across the world – nearly 150 countries choose to take part in the celebrations – to celebrate international fun and friendship, as well as to help raise money and focus on the year's global theme. The theme for 2022 was 'Our World, Our Equal Future.' The Environment and Gender Equality. The theme marks the start of a three-year plan to make the members more environment conscious.

KGGA however continued with its focus on the Centenary Celebrations and the theme thereof, 'Awakening Her Potential.'

On 22nd February 2022 The National Council Members led by the KGGA chief Commissioner Prof Faith Nguru left Nairobi for Nyeri for the commemoration of WTD/ Founders day celebrations at the Baden Powell Grounds.

The program started at 11am with a word of Prayer from Germaine Laval, a young leader from Nairobi. The welcome remarks were done by the Girl Guide County Commissioner Madam Irene Mwangi. She acknowledged the presence of all the Guests present and thanked them for taking time to join in the celebrations. In her remarks she introduced the Sub County Girl Guide commissioners present and noted that the only part of Nyeri County that did not have Guiding was Tetu but however indicated that the team was working on ensuring that they identify a guider who can work in supporting the implementation of Guide activities in the area.

The former Chief Commissioner Mrs. Wamuyu Mahinda was then invited to give brief remarks. In her remarks she indicated that she is proud of the work that is still going on with Girl Guiding. She encouraged the girls who were present to believe in themselves and always work hard to achieve their dreams. She assured the girls that they have the same potential as boys and they only need to work a little smarter to achieve their dreams.

The National Executive Officer (NEO) Priscilla Gathiga was invited to share her remarks before inviting the Chief Commissioner. In her remarks she shared a brief of the plans that KGGA had ahead of the Centenary Celebrations and invited all the members present for the celebrations. She noted that it was necessary for the Association's National Council members to travel to Nyeri to celebrate the founders before marking the 100th year milestone.

The NEO then invited the Sub County Director of Education Nyeri Central who thanked the Association for inviting him for the commemoration and assured the County Girl Guide Commissioners of the County Director of Education unwavering support for their Guide activities.

The NEO was then honored with the task of introducing the Chief Commissioner, Prof. Faith Nguru.

The KGGA chief commissioner recognized the presence of one of the oldest Guides who interacted with World Chief Guide Mrs. Epharus Mbau. She further stated that achieving this milestone was a new challenge in ensuring that KGGA achieves its set goals and sets the foundation in ensuring that the next 100 years will be a success.

The remarks from KGGG Chief Commissioner Prof Faith Nguru marked the end of the commemoration and with song and Jubilation, the Girl Guides lead the procession to the graveyard carrying bouquets of flowers.

At the graveside, 3 wreaths were laid by the Chief Commissioner, former Chief Commissioner Mrs. Wamuyu and The NEO. The invited Guests assisted by the Girl Guides laid the second wreath. National Executive Members and Young Leaders laid the third wreath.

The procession was then led back to the Baden Powell grounds where two ceremonial trees were planted to commemorate the day. Two signs were erected next to the trees to indicate that they were planted in commemoration of KGGG at 100 Years.

The procession then left the Baden Powell Grounds to Outspan Hotel where the curator of the Hotel took the visitors through a brief history of the life and times of Lord and Lady Baden Powel at Paxtu. The museum holds relics that have been donated by Girl Guides and Scouts around the World.

The curator noted that the Covid-19 impact had hit the Outspan hotel and therefore the hotel was being sold. He noted that this should be a cause of worry to the Girl Guide and Scout Associations since the new owners of the hotel may decide to do away with the museum which will be a huge loss to Kenya as the final resting home of the founders.

The KGGG Chief Commissioner autographed the KGGG @100 scarf and gave it to the curator as KGGG's Gift to the museum.

The WTD celebrations also involved a media conversation through a press briefing from the different reporters based in Nyeri. The reporters were from KTN, NTV, Royal Media Services and Media Max. They interviewed the KGGG Chief Commissioner Prof. Faith Nguru, Executive Committee Member Ann Sumbeiywo and Former Chief Commissioner Mrs. Wamuyu Mahinda.

WELCOME REMARKS

Speech of KGGGA National Executive Officer PRISCILLA GATHIGA

It is my distinct honour and high privilege to welcome you to this 100th anniversary event to celebrate an important milestone in the Kenya Girl Guides Association's history. Firstly, I would like to thank the Almighty God for preserving us to witness this monumental event. I would also like to thank every one of you for taking time away from your busy schedules or from your retired life to come and join us for this occasion. It is indeed wonderful to be in the presence and in the company of so many friends, partners, colleagues, and members of the global Girl Guide community.

Today we take a moment to look back to where it all began. A single man who followed his mission, sold it to his wife and together created a strong global movement, now spanning over 150 countries. The Kenya Girl Guides Association was registered in 1922. It is the oldest and largest women-only organization consisting of girls and women from the age of three years. We are also privileged to be the second home of the founders Lord and Lady Baden Powel as well as their resting place in Nyeri.

Our centenary celebrations kicked off a year ago with the launch by our patron Her Excellency Margaret Kenyatta. This celebration is a time to celebrate our place, our girls and women and our purpose which is to empower girls and young women to develop their fullest potential as leaders and responsible citizens of the world. In so doing, we develop character which is a core ingredient in leadership development. We believe that the dream of that girl is not only valid but will become her vision as a woman of tomorrow hence it should be nurtured.

Your Excellency, our centenary celebration's theme awakening her potential is a call to rejuvenate, re- energize and refocus on our vision which is building those girls who will create a better world for all mankind. The hundred years of guiding experience has awakened us to a reality that it is easier to build a girl than to repair a woman. It is now with great pleasure that I invite you all to sit back and enjoy the celebrations we have planned for today. As our girls would say "Welcome to our world. Let us celebrate."

Priscilla Gathiga

KGGA

National Executive Officer

The Senior Pastor CITAM Karen, Charles Obara gave a sermonette whose message was based on the Centenary theme "Awakening Her Potential".

Speech of KGGGA National Chairman TERRY MAINA

I am honored to be here today for the double celebration that is our 100th birthday and our annual world Thinking day. What an important and rare opportunity to be able to see the modest beginnings of 1922 grow into a movement that has grown in leaps and bounds.

As your chairman, I am especially proud of the impact that our girls and young women continue to make in the various spheres of society that they serve. I believe that girls are powerful, that they hold in their hands and minds the capacity to build the world that they dream about. Our role as the association and board is to provide the tools, skills that in turn build their capacity to their highest potential.

Our goal as we empower and equip our girls and young women is to help them shine their light beyond the confines of their immediate environment and to the global village that has become our world. When a society invests in the girl, the benefits realized are compounded. When she knows her value, honours her abilities and has a strong sense of worth, she builds her capacity to transform her own life and that of those around her, her family, her environment and her society. She raises others to go further and do better and more than she did.

As guided by our strategic mandate, our efforts remain focused on empowering girls and young women to develop, exploit and utilize their fullest potential through value-based training. We note that the CBC curriculum echoes a lot of what the KGGGA training stands for. The KGGGA continues to provide opportunities by creating chances, environment and space for girls and young women.

Belonging to the girl guide movement also grants our girls and young women a platform to speak out and influence issues and causes that they care about. We also strive to add our voice in advocacy and lobbying for girls and young women to be valued and empowered to take action. The girl must keep showing up at the table where decisions, especially decisions about her are made. In line with best practice and good governance, we also ensure that we are steadily Strengthening the institutional capacity and capabilities.

The theme in the lead up to our centenary celebrations is “AWAKENING HER POTENTIAL.” Our focus must be razor sharp to ensure that our girls and young women translate their potential and possibilities into tangible and meaningful engagements that build their lives and our society as a whole. Advances in information and technology should also increase our ability to remain connected to the global family that is the Girl Guide movement. As we develop homegrown solutions to the challenges in our cultural context, we must always think globally. We are citizens of Kenya, Africa and the world.

I close by reminding our girls to continue to fly high the flag of our values. They should continue to carry themselves and treat others with dignity. They must demonstrate unquestionable integrity in every space they occupy. Their endeavors must be marked with a reverence for their faith and spirituality. As they lead others, they must be ready to serve and as Kenyans, should be model citizens.

Terry Maina
KGGGA
National Chairman

The Chairman thereafter invited the Vice Chair of the World Board of the World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts (WAGGGS).

SPEECH OF VICE CHAIR OF THE WORLD ASSOCIATION OF GIRL GUIDES AND GIRL SCOUTS (WAGGGS)

JAYNE WACHIRA

The World Board Chair, the entire Board, myself and my colleagues Jennifer Karina who is a member of the African Region Committee and Alice Waweru, who is our manager strategy and partnerships wish to congratulate Kenya Girl Guides Association on this occasion of the centenary celebrations.

We thank Her Excellency the First Lady of the Republic of Kenya for her generous and continued support to the Girl Guide movement. Your contribution has enabled more girls to achieve their potential and build a better world. We also thank the government of Kenya and various partners for supporting the movement and integrating Girl Guides into national programs.

So, what did the world look like a hundred years ago in 1922?

What was the guiding experience when the Girl Guide movement started in Kenya?

Most importantly, what will the guiding movement be in 100 years to come?

These are questions we may ask ourselves but some things remain the same. It takes the vision of leaders to chart a clear path forward; listening to the voices of girls and young women and developing programmes that help them to grow in character, skill and excellence. For this we applaud the Kenya Girl Guides Association over the years for creating a movement that has excelled in several aspects.

Continually being among the leading member organizations of WAGGGS and in Africa, for developing outstanding leaders; building the character and skill of millions of girls who have passed through the association's hands, promoting peace, conserving the environment and contributing to national development.

We also thank the millions of volunteers who have over the years been dedicated and had the passion to consistently give a minimum of four hours a week to prepare and hold the hands of girls as they pass through the movement. This tremendous progress would not have been possible without all these volunteers.

The world association of girl guides and girl scouts, is the largest movement dedicated to girls and young women with a membership of 10 million girls in 152 countries. Our girl Guides of USA and Girl Guides Uganda have showcased our international presence today.

We have a vision where all girls can thrive and the Kenya Girl Guides theme “Awakening Her potential” speaks to this. Each one of us has a role to play to carry this vision forward for we were chosen and we have chosen to leave the world a better place than we found it and to ensure girl guiding continues to stay relevant, to create safe spaces for girls, build communities where girls and women can share at all levels, empower our children, support them to lead and create a rewarding environment for volunteers and continue to build a sustainable Movement. For the girls around Kenya who are in the Girl Guide movement and are able to witness this celebration either here in person or remotely, as our pastor has told us, God has a purpose for each and every one of us. God has a purpose for you and your life, so you're here for a reason. Be proud that you're able to witness this occasion and may it be inspiring for you and may it cause you to keep the fire burning.

So, girls, I want you to repeat after me “tell a friend, to tell a friend, good things are happening here. Come over and join the movement”

Jayne Wachira

Vice Chair
World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts

The Kenya Girl Guides Association Chief Commissioner Professor Faith Nguru thereafter made her speech.

SPEECH OF THE KGGA CHIEF COMMISSIONER PROFESSOR FAITH NGURU

Today's celebration is very special because in addition to our annual thinking day, we have the privilege and honor to mark 100 years as KGGA.

It is a great joy and honor to be able to look back at the distance we have come as we celebrate the numerous strides we have made in our country, the region and across the globe.

We take pride in belonging to a global movement whose membership transcends barriers across race, class, culture, and religion. We seek to empower girls and women to make their world better.

It is our commitment that the girls and women in our network continue to stand out as beacons of integrity, nurturing and championing social values. To this end, the association continues to create safe spaces, opportunities and the right environment for our girls and young women to awaken their fullest potential as leaders and citizens of the world.

We are aware of the unique challenges that our girls and young women face as they endeavor to learn, earn and deliver positive change in their communities.

Our efforts with your continued support will help us to rewrite the narrative of their journey. From victimized and vulnerable individuals to powerful and purposeful. From exploited and endangered to educated and empowered.

Our various programs for learning, training and mentorship are aimed at steadily and consistently closing the opportunity gaps that exist in society while increasing their odds for success.

On our thinking day in 2018 we launched a detailed and ambitious 10year strategic plan to spur KGGGA forward. We are glad to confirm that we are on course in its implementation. Noteworthy is our progress in recruitment. We launched an aggressive recruitment drive in the Rift Valley in 2021 that has seen the membership in this period grow by an impressive 50% to the current 350,000 girls. We intend to scale this strategy to other regions as we work towards 1,000,000 members in the next two years.

We note that the KRA recently imposed VAT on the guide uniforms making them more expensive, yet they are compulsory for any girl joining the movement. We again appeal to the Government to declare the girl guides uniforms zero- rated.

In the build up to our big day today, our centenary celebrations have been guided by the very compelling and challenging theme of AWAKENING HER POTENTIAL.

We have made strategic and intentional efforts in this regard, anchored on our five thematic areas: Education, Entrepreneurship, Environment, Peace and Health.

Our various programmes on leadership development, advocacy and Community Action empowers our girls to develop the skills and confidence to drive positive and meaningful change. This is HER, the future leader.

With the support of various sponsors and partners, KGGGA continues to deliver entrepreneurship and life skills training, mentorship and linkage to finance in order to elevate the girl's role as HER, the entrepreneur

Our "one girl one tree" campaign aimed at planting over 1Million trees is one of our key initiatives. Together with other partners of environmental conservation, she is exemplified as HER, the green ambassador.

Further, our targeted peace education activities equip our girls to promote conflict resolution and harmonious coexistence and fulfill her role as HER, the peacemaker.

In recognition of blood as the basic unit of life, The Kenya Girl Guides association is running the KGGGA @100 Countrywide blood donation drive targeting 100,000 blood Units, demonstrating the understanding of her role as HER, the life giver.

Appreciation

The KGGGA has been able to walk this long journey largely because we have never walked this alone. Allow me to begin by appreciating our gracious Patron, Her Excellency the First lady Mrs. Margaret Kenyatta. Thank you for the unwavering and dependable support for our movement, our programs and indeed our vision.

Secondly, our government through its various arms:

The Ministry of Education - for your grants that facilitate girls in public schools enroll and get access to KGGGA programmes. The KGGGA has been able to walk this long journey largely because we have never walked this alone.

The Ministry of Gender and Public Service - for continuously supporting our agenda and embracing the issues raised by the girls and capacity building through seconded staff and interns.

The Ministry of Innovation, Youth and ICT - for your partnership through the Ajira programme and the recent initiative to develop an economic empowerment Centre at KGGGA Headquarters

We also appreciate our umbrella body World Association of Girl Guides and Girl Scouts (WAGGGS) for your unwavering support of our programs and your impactful training of our members.

Our development partners including USAID, UNICEF, Kenya Forestry Service and so many others who sponsor our activities and enable us to translate our goals on paper to tangible and beneficial programs on the ground.

We also salute our founding members who hold and continue to share the rich and inspiring history of the girl guiding movement in Kenya. We have been able to see farther because you have allowed us to stand on your shoulders.

We also commend the executive committee, trustees, National council, trainers, guide leaders' staff for your valued service. Together, we make a difference. Together we make the world better.

God being our helper, let us walk into the next century with confidence.

MAIN SPEECHES

SPEECH OF CS EDUCATION, PROF GEORGE MAGOHA READ BY: PS STATE DEPARTMENT FOR IMPLEMENTATION OF CURRICULUM REFORMS, PROF. FATUMA N. CHEGE

It gives me great pleasure to join you today in your centenary celebrations as the Kenya Girl Guides Association.

Today's celebration is particularly monumental because in addition to your annual Thinking Day as a movement, you celebrate 100 years of building the guiding movement in Kenya. Hongera for walking the long and important journey of building the girl child and empowering her to make a positive contribution to our society, our country and indeed every corner of the world that the girl guide occupies.

The ministry of Education recognises the Kenya Girl Guides Association as a reliable partner in the wholesome development of our children. Girl guiding is a key part of the co-curricular program in our schools.

Support for Guiding in Schools

The Ministry has supported girls to join the movement and herein learn the values that will shape them for now in the future. As the ministry works on the curriculums, books and educational content, we are pleased to have partners such as the Kenya Girl Guides Association to supplement learning and develop well rounded children. Academic success is greatly complemented by the values that you endear. Our children learn to treat themselves and others with dignity, to demonstrate integrity and develop their capacity for true leadership which is based on serving others. This way, we build responsible and upright citizens who contribute positively to our nation.

We understand that girl guiding also exposes its members to experiences such as camping, training and exchange programs that enable them to build a global view. As we have often heard, we must think global but act local developing homegrown solutions relevant to our context.

The Ministry of Education will lead the way in ensuring quality learning in our schools. We remain committed to building a system that is globally competitive in education, training, research and innovation for sustainable development. We look forward to giving our children a cutting-edge education that positions them strategically for the world that they live in.

We recognize that education is one of the most effective tools to place in the hands of an individual. Great effort and emphasis have been laid on ensuring the girl child gets her fair chance at education and we continue to reap the benefits of this endeavours. We acknowledge Girl child empowerment which is at the heart of the Girl Guiding movement is a key cornerstone in the development of our nation is something we need to embrace

An education brings with it possibilities and opens doors to all. Further, a good quality education should not just fill the mind with facts and figures but instead open it to critical and broad analytical thinking. This has informed the changes and modifications on our curriculum and general approach to learning. As with any significant program, there have been challenges which we continue to innovatively and progressively address.

It indeed takes a village to raise a child. At the Ministry of Education, we also know that family provides, nurtures and teaches values. The teachers provide academic and other complimentary learning. The community and other spaces of social and spiritual development shape the children for the real world. Every member of the community therefore must step up to the tasks for the child. Parents need to effectively play their role of parenting and not leave everything to teachers. In this context organizations such as the Girl Guide movement are critical to complementing the role of parents and teachers.

SPEECH OF GOVERNOR. NAIROBI CITY COUNTY HER EXCELLENCY ANNE KANANU

Today is truly a privilege, to not only witness the girl guide movement turn 100 years in Kenya but to be part of this historic celebration.

I want to thank the organizers for choosing CITAM Karen, one of the best venues and we are privileged to be here in today. As we honour 100 years, we also honour the house of the Lord.

Exactly a hundred years ago, Girl Guiding came to Kenya from the United Kingdom and has taken root since. I am happy to note that over the years, the movement has grown and transformed into what it is today; The largest youth organization for girls and young women in Kenya with over 120, 000 youth members. I believe the sense of community and outreach which is at the heart of girl guiding is more important now than ever before. The beautiful young ladies we see here today are the beneficiaries of your pioneering efforts.

Your excellency the First Lady of the Republic of Kenya, the world has changed a great deal for girls over this past century. We are fortunate that here in Kenya, young girls and women now have the kind of opportunities our fore bearers could only dream of. It humbles me that the Girl Guide Association continues to focus on enabling and empowering girls and women to grow into confident, self-respecting and responsible members of our community.

As the Governor of Nairobi, I want to say that I am very proud of the Girl Guide Association because I also started as a brownie, grew into a girl guide and to what I am today. I know that as I stand here today, I see leaders in this forum and I believe the Girl Guide Association is going to give us more and more leaders of this country as we forge forward.

Ladies and gentlemen. I am not alone in recognizing the relevance of the Girl Guides movement in the 21st century lives as clearly outlined by the centenary celebration theme of "Awakening Her Potential". I am a witness to your resolve to embrace inclusivity. In my day-to-day operations, I have come across many of you who have gone ahead to become young leaders and advocates of meaningful societal change.

As I conclude I would like to remind you that the world economy is increasingly embracing digitization and I therefore want to call upon the youth of this city to embrace Kenya's ICT transformation journey and take advantage of it to enhance and grow the empowerment of girls and young women. They should use it to boost good governance and the drive to a better society. I believe that young people, serious about change, should be at the forefront of global change and innovation. I will play my part as a woman leader to ensure this gap is bridged by facilitating equal and easy access to digital technologies and internet for girls and women.

I am also going to encourage and invest in girls and women to build their ICT skills. I am also going to enable women and girls to take up leadership roles in technology.

Your excellency the First Lady of the Republic of Kenya I wish to also to thank you so much for leading us by example. You supporting women and the girl child in the society, goes a long way in ensuring women and girls are recognized and respected in all aspects of life. We want to thank you again for leading us by example. I hope that you will all enjoy this celebration; relish and cherish it. A hundred years strong, may the spirit of guiding live on for at least a century more.

Governor , Nairobi City County

SPEECH OF -THE CHIEF ADMINISTRATIVE SECRETARY FOR ICT, INNOVATION AND YOUTH AFFAIRS MS. NADIA ABDALLA

29 years is the age I was when President Uhuru Kenyatta appointed me as the youngest Chief Administrative Secretary in his government.

A Chief Administrative Secretary in Kenya is equivalent to an Assistant Minister. I am a female, young Kenyan who is an Assistant Minister and I am a girl child. Interestingly, I was a brownie.

My Potential was awakened when I was a brownie. At age 13, I wanted to be one of three things - A President of this country, the late Koffi Annan or Oprah Winfrey. Today, 17 years later, I am 30 and the President of Kenya is my boss. Do you see why it is so important for you girls to believe in yourselves? Work hard, believe in yourself and keep the spirit high. Ignore anyone who tells you that you're a girl or you come from a region that is impossible to be who you are. Instead, fix your smile, be disciplined and work hard.

I was not an A student but I can tell you for a fact I had a gift. As the Reverend shared earlier, God gives every woman or every human being a gift. My gift is speaking. I articulate things very well and I also write. Last year, on December 13th, I published my book called "Of Dreams and Whatever." It is a book about me, the girl child who grew up in a marginalized community from the coast and how I didn't let that stop me.

In the book I talk about being confident, I talk about growing up in a family where girls only seem to finish high school and get married and I talk about the importance of having mentorship.

The guiding fraternity is the best mentorship you can have. Please know you can do all that and still look very fabulous. Whatever you do in life, whoever you meet in life, whatever struggle or challenge you have in life, make sure you always look at the better side of that particular challenge. Do not forget God.

Our various programs for learning, training and mentorship are aimed at steadily and consistently closing the opportunity gaps that exist in society while increasing their odds for success.

On our thinking day in 2018 we launched a detailed and ambitious 10 year strategic plan to spur KGGGA forward. We are glad to confirm that we are on course in its implementation.

I can truly say if it wasn't for God, I would not be where I am today. If it wasn't for people like His Excellency the President, and the First Lady none of us would be here today and be around here. Please repeat after Me "I believe in myself, I am worth it, I am built phenomenally and I will make it by the grace of God."

Always remember to be the best at whatever you do.

CAS Nadia Abdalla

Chief Administrative Secretary
for ICT, Innovation and Youth Affairs

SPEECH OF THE CABINET SECRETARY FOR PUBLIC SERVICE AND GENDER, PROFESSOR MARGARET KOBIA

I am delighted to join you, your Excellency, to congratulate the Kenya Girl Guides Association on this momentous occasion to mark a hundred years since its establishment under the theme “Awakening her Potential.” The theme is a very exciting and stimulating one because my ministry especially the State Department of Gender works around the programs that try to provide equal opportunities for both men and girls and women to maximize their potential politically, socially, and culturally. I am sure this theme of “Awakening her Potential” is going to be nurtured around that environment.

Your excellency, your presence here today as the Patron of Kenya Girl Guides Association is a big testimony of your commitment to the empowerment of girls to be able to take up their rightful role to create a better Kenya. Your Excellency, as a Minister responsible for policies that support children, girls and women empowerment, we place immense importance on the values and principles that help shape the young minds for a better and inclusive future.

We appreciate the ongoing and consistent efforts, initiatives and the commitment by the young people and the Kenyan Government including the recent commitment in leading discussions after issuing a statement on the global call to action on the COVID 19 pandemic on girls. This is a demonstration of the role of this organization as a change maker.

Your Excellency, I also want to thank the team led by the Chief Commissioner, Professor Faith Nguru for having sustained this organization to celebrate a hundred years. It is no mean achievement. It also places immense responsibility to know that you're handing the baton to the next generation. I believe that the theme you have chosen will be delivered because you are carrying the baton well.

Your Excellency, in conclusion, this Centenary Celebration is important as it provides an opportunity to reflect on the gains of the last hundred years and chart a way forward in raising girls and women of great character. You can count on our support from the Ministry moving forward.

Your Excellency, as you may have noticed, the Girl Guide Association works through a lot of partnerships with a lot of government agencies all aimed at getting a better Kenya through the realization of vision 2030. Allow me to close my remarks by once again congratulating the Kenya Girl Guide Association for having this celebration. We are all in a mood of celebration.

Prof Margaret Kobia
Cabinet Secretary for Public Service and Gender

HER EXCELLENCY FIRST LADY OF THE REPUBLIC OF KENYA, KGGA PATRON MARGARET KENYATTA

The leadership and members of the Kenya Girl Guides Association, all distinguished guests, rainbows, brownies and girl guides. It is my pleasure to share in the joy of celebrating Kenya Girl Guides Association Centenary. This is indeed a day I am proud to be part of.

Today we mark the impact and growth of the Girl Guide movement in Kenya. We celebrate the Association's epic journey spanning over ten decades and reflect on the great founder Lord Baden Powell and the gracious lady Olave Baden-Powell both of whose pioneering work and vision shaped the Kenya Girl Guides into what it is today. A movement built on a solid foundation of values and a legacy of rich heritage dotted and admired movement living true to its core belief of upholding human dignity, walking in integrity, exemplifying servant leadership, demonstrating spirituality and being a model citizen.

I salute the women who have been instrumental in spurring this movement to where it is today. It is because of your voice, your contribution, your leadership and your sacrifice in driving the agenda of empowering the girl child and the woman that we all stand here today. Your individual and collective commitment is a testament to the inspiring guide promise that urges us to live to our pledge, doing your best in your duty to God and Country. In this regard I kindly request that we observe a moment of silence for one of our older guides-Mrs Janice Wanjiru Ng'ang'a who passed away on Wednesday evening. May God rest her soul in eternal peace.

As patron, I am also proud to see members of the Kenya Girl Guides, some of whom we are recognizing here today, continue to blaze the trail. The footprint of your devotion and impact is evident in our communities, our learning institutions, the marketplace, our nation and beyond our borders.

The journey of the Kenya Girl Guide movement is indeed one of a thousand miles with its primary objective of uplifting the girl child and women in our society and addressing their unique needs and challenges. The inter-generational composition of the movement is diverse; a valuable attribute that we must exploit to empower our future generations through mentorship, growth, and learning.

I am indeed very pleased by the progress of the recruitment of girls into the guiding movement. I also note today that we shall be rolling out the new guiding program that localizes the guiding curriculum to suit our own environment.

This year's thinking day theme AWAKENING HER POTENTIAL resonates with the objectives of the new guides program that aim to ensure that our girls are given the space to shine, thrive and claim all possibilities for their individual futures. We must continue to awaken them in the spirit of integrity, championing the social values we aspire as a nation.

So as we commemorate 100 years of the Kenya Girl Guides Association, it's my hope that we shall remain inspired to learn, create and be part of the change we want to see in our communities, our institutions and our country Kenya.

I thank all our partners, many of whom are represented here today. You have become our beacons of support through your contributions, commitment, and goodwill. Once again, I congratulate the entire community of the Kenya Girl Guides Association. I wish you all an exciting day of celebrations and safe travel home.

Happy one hundredth Anniversary.

HE Margaret Kenyatta

First Lady of the Republic of Kenya

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. Digitization - There is need to digitize the material at KGGGA, especially the photos and videos. This will help in the retrieval of information when need arises.
2. Data base - KGGGA is a large family with members still active in the association even after serving their terms. Maintaining up to date records would fast track correspondence.
This can happen on a continuous basis.
3. In cases of a major event, sending of letters and communication takes approximately 2 weeks. This is sometimes delayed because of approvals by the guests. Drafting can start earlier before the approvals so it only remains filling out the dates and venue details once approval has happened.
4. There needs to be continued aggressive social media and digital engagement especially in the communication pursuit with the younger members of the movement
5. KGGGA does shorter videos that will enhance and add more value to the bigger story of the 100 years, especially with those who never got an opportunity to feature in the Documentary, the videos can be uploaded on social media and on the website.

YOUTH UNITE & TALK

WORD FROM THE COMMITTEE CHAIR

Walking down the memory lane of KGGGA has been an inspiring story of resilience, intergenerational collaboration, growth and impact. As we reflect an entire century of service, we are reminded of 100 years of good. 100 years of building, teamwork and devotion. 100 years of the work of volunteerism and service. 100 years of standing behind the girl child 100 percent. We remain indebted to the founders and the leaders across the decades who have written their part of this great story beautifully.

The current and future leaders must in turn pick that baton and steadily run the race ahead, so that we can have another 100 years to bequeath the generations to come. We must pick the principles that those before us stood on to walk such a journey successfully. We must continually calibrate our plans and aspirations to our mission, the reason of our being.

In addition, we must keep our patterns agile, current and relevant in order to meet the needs of our members and the communities we serve. As we awaken her potential, we must also equip the girls and young women to thrive, to fly and to be all that they can be. With our help, her fulfilled potential must infinitely help her live the mission - make the world better.

Special appreciation to the Centenary Committee for their endless sacrifice and support in making the Centenary Celebrations a great moment of reflection and inspiration. We are truly indebted to you:

CONCLUSION

Anniversaries and birthdays are great opportunities for celebration, commemoration and reflection. Marking 100 years of the Guiding movement in Kenya provides the best moment for us to celebrate our growth, our milestones and the impact of our programmes, initiatives, and projects.

This is a time to also keep alive the memory and vision of our founders, Lord Baden Powell and Lady Olave Baden Powell. Our commemoration must go beyond plaques and flowers to carrying with us the heart and philosophy that our founders and front-runners subscribed to; devoted volunteerism, authentic friendship and serving others. We as Girl Guides must live the pledge and promise of Guiding.

As has been mentioned, we must also take this opportunity to reflect on the Kenya Girl Guides Association that we want to build and bequeath the generations for the next 100 years. We must remain true to our values, focused on our strategic goals and committed to the growth of this great Association.

In the words of the National Executive Officer, Priscilla Gathiga, everyone needs to join the bandwagon to be part of this noble agenda.

A little girl with a dream becomes a woman with a vision.
Our core mandate is to build character of young women and girls.
By so doing, we are preparing the leader and nation builder of tomorrow...
...If we have been distracted and gone astray from our mission, we restore, re-focus and re-energize for the sole purpose of creating a better world for the girls and women of Kenya and for the good of mankind.

*Priscilla Gathiga
National Executive Officer, KGGA*
